LU.PA Italian Jewelry Design

By Lucia Pasquinelli

*"I love to express myself! When I create my jewelry,
I don't work with pen and paper or a computer,
I work with my heart.
My feelings flow through my veins into my hands
And they shape the metals and caress the stones
Then – voila! A new piece is born."*

LU.PA designer Lucia Pasquinelli was born and raised in Rome, Italy, a land of art, history, and traditions. Coming from an artistic family and having been surrounded by a culturally rich environment, Lucia has always been creative and inclined to manifest her beliefs, which include respect and appreciation of life and of the environment. Her creativity is motivated by the desire for harmony within the world.

Her jewelry is made with the intention of highlighting nature's beauty by turning natural materials into pieces that transmit the power of the metals and of the stones to the wearer.

All of her pieces are handcrafted exclusively of precious metals and may include gems, pearls, and other organic materials. Some of the stones are shaped by the artist herself. She applies various techniques when creating her jewelry and loves to play with the metals, altering their normal boundaries into unexpected manifestations.

Her company name, LU.PA, and her logo, the wolf, represent the centuries of history, culture, and tradition of her origins. The wolf has been the symbol of Rome since its creation, more than 2000 years ago, and LU.PA, besides being Lucia's initials, is the Italian word for wolf.

Her training includes bench work with a professional jeweler in Rome as well as with master craftsmen in California. Lucia now lives in Los Angeles and is proudly associated with the Metal Art Society of Southern California, the Culver City Rock & Minerals Club, and the Venice Professional Jewelry Making Program.
